School of Home Economics.

As stated last week the school in home economics will begin Tuesday afternoon, March 14, and close Friday night, March 17. These sessions will the house with a severe cold. be held in the domestic science room of the academy building. There will be two sessions daily of two hours each, the afternoon sessions beginning at 2.30 and the evening sessions at 7.30. This is a school for teaching practical ways of cooking simple foods and economical buying. The instruction is given in the form of lectures, illustrated by demonstrations. This is a community affair and every woman is urged to be present at every session. This school means to the housekeeper what agricultural extension service means to the farmer. The meetings are free to any woman wishing to at tend and it is hoped as many as possible will avail themselves of the opportunity.

The evening service was a union one addressed by Rev. Mr. Douglass, who exchanged with Mr. Warner. The subject was "Antipas, the Type of Faithful Martyr." From the man, we can judge what sort of a church produced bim. That is a question for the pulpit now: What kind of folks have we reason to think will be produced by our preaching? When the church produces a certain type of man, he in turn gives inspiration and strength to the organization.
